Independent Studies (451) are available in most academic departments. They are intended to provide the upperclass student with an opportunity for advanced research and/or creative projects. Independent Studies may not be used to satisfy Basic Educational Proficiencies or Distribution Requirements. If the Independent Study is to be used as a substitution for a specific requirement within a department major or minor, the department chair must provide a written authorization for the substitution.

- A recent course syllabus must be attached for submission.

Please complete the following (attach additional pages or supporting materials as necessary):
