Assistant Professor of Physics
Adrian College

The Department of Physics at Adrian College invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track position in experimental physics at the Assistant Professor level to begin in August 2016. The successful candidate will be expected to teach at all levels of the undergraduate curriculum, contribute to new course and laboratory development, advise students, and supervise undergraduate research projects.

Candidates must have a strong commitment to excellence in teaching and a strong emphasis will be placed on scholarly activity and college service. Candidates should have a PhD in physics or a related field prior to the start date. However, qualified ABD candidates will also be considered. Preference will be given to candidates with experience teaching at the undergraduate level. Post-doctoral research experience is a plus.

Applicants should submit a cover letter, a curriculum vita, unofficial transcripts, a description of their teaching philosophy and experience, a statement of their research interests, and arrange for three letters of recommendation to be sent on their behalf. All application materials and questions should be sent to physicssearch@adrian.edu. Review of completed applications will begin January 15, 2016 and continue until the position is filled.

Adrian College is an Equal Employment Opportunity Employer and women and minorities are encouraged to apply. If offered a position, the finalist must furnish proof of U.S. citizenship or proof of eligibility to work in the U.S. within three (3) days of commencing employment.

A private, co-educational college of liberal arts and sciences related to the United Methodist Church, Adrian College is a traditional four-year residential institution offering a focused undergraduate education. The College offers 40 majors and preprofessional programs, 39 athletic teams and eight institutes dedicated to a diverse and personalized approach to education. Adrian College features state-of-the-art facilities, small class sizes and an innovative approach to the academic and personal growth of its students.

U.S. News & World Report 2016 edition has recognized Adrian College as the “#19 Regional Top Baccalaureate College in the Midwest.” Adrian also received accolades as a “Best Value” school. The College landed 14th on the list of Best Value schools in the Midwest region. The College has also been recognized as a “Best School for Veterans,” sitting 14th in the Midwest. Adrian College is located in Southeast Michigan, about 45 minutes from Ann Arbor and Toledo.